

From: The Postgraduate Tutors

September 2023

Welcome to Girton College. We hope that you will have a productive and enjoyable stay here.

As well as the Postgraduate Office, the Postgraduate Team here at Girton consists of five Postgraduate Tutors and a Fellow for Postgraduate Affairs.

Each postgraduate student is allocated to a Tutor, and we are available to help with any personal or pastoral issues including, but not limited to, financial matters. If we cannot help you directly, we will probably know who can. Your Tutor is a useful intermediary for many situations and if you experience difficulties, we can also assist with academic matters. Tutors can also supply references for many situations.

The Fellow for Postgraduate Affairs works closely with the Tutors and the MCR, organising events, working on aspects of Postgraduate policy and consulting on tutorial matters arising.

As Postgraduate Tutors we will each be in email contact with our students at the start of term, so when you receive the email, you will know who your Tutor is and how to contact them.

We are hoping to be able to offer more in-person meetings this coming academic year, but please be assured that we are available via email and can also meet via Microsoft Teams / Zoom at a mutually convenient time. We also offer a drop-in office hour once a week and you will be given further information about that in your initial email.

We look forward to meeting you.

With best wishes,

Dr Diana Fusco
