Applications are invited for appointment to a College Lectureship in Medicine together with a Fellowship at Girton College. The appointment is initially for 3 years, to start on 1 October 2018, with the possibility of extension. The appointee will be expected to deliver supervisions in a core subject, for example Molecules in Medical Sciences or Homeostasis to first year students. This post would be especially suitable for somebody at Clinician Scientist / Clinical Lecturer level. In due course the Fellow would be expected to take on some Directing of Studies. In addition, another option would be for the individual to take a lead in clinical supervision (organised through the medical school).

The appointee would be expected to deliver a minimum of 80 hours of college teaching during the academic year. The stipend, payable in addition to the appointees current salary would be £3,907 – £5,091 (80 hours) or £5,860 – £7,637 (120 hours). NB Figures are based on current stipends, which are due for annual increase on 1 August 2018.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, naming two referees and a covering letter outlining how they would contribute to college teaching and medicine at Girton, before the application deadline at noon on 18 June 2018. Applications should be sent to the Personnel Office at Girton College: email recruitment@girton.cam.ac.uk

Interviews are expected to be held 3 July 2018.
